CYCLE FOR YOUR WALLET

SkYROCKETING petrol costs are cutting into household budgets. Bicycles have no fuel tank and so they are the perfect solution to avoiding the pain at the pump. Swap the car keys for a bicycle helmet and keep your hard earned cash for more important things.

CYCLE FOR THE PLANET

Transport is responsible for 34% of household greenhouse gas emissions, whilst lighting accounts for only 5%. Australian Greenhouse Office, 2006.

Cycling for short journeys is a practical, easy way to lower our impact on the environment. Every litre of petrol you save cuts greenhouse gas emissions by 2.6 kg. Travel Smart because its how you get there that counts.

When using a shared path, keep to the left and give way to pedestrians. Use your bell to warn them that you are about to pass. Use clear hand signals to alert drivers to your intentions to turn left or right. Remember to ride defensively and stay alert at all times, particularly when riding in traffic. It is against the law to ride on a footpath unless:
 you are under 12 years of age
 you are an adult supervising a child under 12 years it is a shared use footpath that is specifically for cyclists and pedestrians.
